NSH Lifetime Cost Sharing

If You Are Thinking about Retirement Here Are Some Things to Consider . . .

If you're like many of your colleagues who work in Nova Scotia's healthcare organizations, you may be thinking about retirement and making plans for that exciting phase of your life.

The following is a checklist of some things you should know about your Health Association benefits and the changes you can expect when you retire. Because some of you will retire before you reach age 65, we've provided a breakdown of benefits based on whether you are still working (active), an early retiree (under age 65) or a retiree who is over age 65.

You are eligible for retiree benefits if you are an employees retiring who will be in immediate receipt of a monthly unreduced pension benefit prior to age 55 or at age 55 and have at least 10 years of continuous service immediately prior to retirement. Please contact your Benefits Administrator for more clarification.
